

European seed sector congratulates newly elected European Commissioners

Brussels, 27th November 2024

The European seed sector warmly congratulates the newly elected European Commissioners following the European Parliament decision. This new team has the opportunity to play a pivotal role in shaping the future of the EU, addressing critical challenges and opportunities for Europe's agriculture competitiveness and sustainability competitiveness and sustainability.

Garlich von Essen, Secretary General and CEO of Euroseeds welcomed the new Commission's team, remarking that: "The recent appointment of the European Commission marks a new era and an opportunity to make concrete steps towards real change in the EU's agricultural and food systems. The seed sector looks forward to collaborating with the newly elected Commissioners the newly elected Commissioners, and the entire Commission to foster innovation, boost EU competitiveness, and build a resilient, sustainable future for European agriculture!"

As a vital partner in the agri-food chain, the seed sector is committed to support the new Commission in delivering effective policies that ensure the flow of high-quality seeds to farmers for the benefit of the entire agri-food system and the welfare of all EU citizens. In line with the mandate of President von der Leyen, we are ready to help the Commission ensuring that agriculture remains resilient, innovative, and a cornerstone of the European economy.

We wish the new Commissioners every success in their important work and look forward to a productive collaboration on many seed-related topics that will help deliver a strong, competitive, and forward-looking EU agri-food sector.
